

Cunningham Hill Publication Scheme on information available under the Freedom of Information Act 2000

The governing body is responsible for maintenance of this scheme.

1. Introduction: what a publication scheme is and why it has been developed

One of the aims of the Freedom of Information Act 2000 (which is referred to as FOIA in the rest of this document) is that public authorities, including all maintained schools, should be clear and proactive about the information they will make public.

To do this we must produce a publication scheme, setting out:

- The classes of information which we publish or intend to publish;
- The manner in which the information will be published; and
- Whether the information is available free of charge or on payment.

The scheme covers information already published and information which is to be published in the future. All information in our publication scheme is either available for you on our website to download and print off or] available in paper form.

Some information which we hold may not be made public, for example personal information.

This publication scheme conforms to the model scheme for schools approved by the Information Commissioner.

2. Aims and Objectives

Cunningham Hill Junior school aims:

- To provide an inclusive and stimulating learning environment, where all members of the school community feel secure, happy and confident.
- To encourage the full development of each child, according to his/her individual ability and aptitude.
- To ensure that every child has equality of opportunity, irrespective of ability, gender, race, culture, religion, Special Educational Needs and disability or social circumstances. To overcome any barriers to learning our children might experience during their time in school.
- To foster a sense of friendship and community through effective home/school partnership in which we are all valued, encouraged and supported.
- To provide an enriching broad and balanced curriculum which motivates our children by providing them with enjoyable and challenging opportunities to fulfil their individual academic, creative, musical and physical potential.
- To enable our children to acquire knowledge, skills, understanding and aesthetic awareness, within a framework of positive attitudes and high expectations.
- To develop in all our children a sense of personal and moral responsibility to the wider community.
- To prepare our children to take their place in a fast changing adult world: including an awareness of the social, cultural, emotional and spiritual needs of others and the effect of technological advances.

This publication scheme is a means of showing how we are pursuing these aims.

3. Categories of information published

The publication scheme guides you to information which we currently publish (or have recently published) or which we will publish in the future. This is split into categories of information known as 'classes'. These are contained in section 6 of this scheme.

The classes of information that we undertake to make available are organised into four broad topic areas:
